MAN SEVERBLY BRAYEN, -A man named John Front-street, a short distance above the Little Miami Railroad depot, and without any cause or provocation, as he says, knocked down and beaton so severely that it was with great difficulty he reached his home, and has not since been able to leave his bed. His face was bruised and his head cut with some sharp instrument, probably a stone, while he was kicked so badly that his physicians expressed their fears that inflammation might be the result of his injuries. He knows no reason why he should have been treated in this manner; and thus the affair, which seems to have been wholly unprovoked, takes the shape of a wanton and brutal outrage, and merits, if the per-petrators could be discovered, the most severe and summary punishment.

LECTURE BEFORE THE Y. M. C. L. INSTITUTE. The fifth lecture of the course, before the Y. M. C. L. Institute, was delivered by Major Joseph W. Burke, on the "Great West." The gentieman referred to the resources, the pros-perity and progress of the West, its true Amer-ican largeness in everything, the industry, on-terprise and independence of its people and the rapid advancement it is making, materially and mentally, and in all branches of science and of art. He believed that in the West the highest and brightest future of the country would be realized; that there the extremes of

would be realized; that there the extremes of Northern and Southern feeling would be rationalized, and health and patriotic sentiment diffused through every part of the Union.

The Major's address was able and eloquent, and many of its passages were received with earnest and prolonged applause. He is a young, talented and rising attorney, and this effort reflects credit upon his capacity and culture, which are far beyond his years.

ment, though more of it was devoted to the institution of slavery than there should have been for the proper properties of his subject. His leading idea was that slavery was not only a meral, political and social evil, but a system of labor unremunerative as at present managed, and therefore to be abolished by those who Colonization was the most effective, indeed the only method of improving our commerce and preserving the unity and peace of the confederacy; and hence it became the duty of every patriot, every citizen to endeavor to bring about such an end. Mr. Blair's discourse was frequently applauded, but tedious on the whole, and a trifle too individual in character to please a miscellaneous audience.

To-morrow avening Hon Henry S. Feets To-morrow evening Hon. Henry S. Foots will lecture on the "Patriot President."

A young and quite pretty lorette, named Sarah Sears, attempted self-destruction yester-day afternoon, at the house in which she re-sided, on Front-street, between Vine and Race. She is a native of Marietta, in this State, and was brought to this city by a young man who soon became weary of her charms and abandoned her. Compelled by the relationship she had borne to him, to look for sympathy outside the pale of society, she became an inmate of a bagnio, but the life she was compelled to lead, made her soul-sick, and she determined to rid herself of it and her own ex-termined to rid herself of it and her own existence by her own hand.

Yesterday afternoon she procured a phial of laudanum, and retiring to her room locked the door, drank the contents and threw herself upon the bed as she thought to die. She had aroused the suspicion of some of the other inmates, however, and they missing her for some time, went to her room and finding the door bolted rapped loudly and called but redoor bolted rapped loudly and called but re-ceived no answer. They then by force burst into the room, and found their sister in shame pale, cold and haif dead.

A physician was immediately summoned; the labeled phial told the cause of the slum-ber into which she had fallen, and the timely removal of the poisonous fluid from her sys-tem saved her from a death which she deemed far preferable to the life she had been com-pelled to endure.

Mysterious Attempt at Suicide—A Young

A young wife, said to be handsome and cultivated, and in the possession of a comfortable home, attempted to destroy herself yesterday by swallowing twelve grains of morphine. THE CONFIDENCE GAME AGAIN SUCCESSFUL Yesterday afternoon a young gentleman from Mississippi, having taken passage on board the steamer Emerald, for New Orleans, was approached by a genteel-looking man and accosted by name. The stranger said he lived but a few miles from the residence of the but a few miles from the residence of the Mississippian, and was then on his way home, thus introducing himself and gaining the favor of the young man. Soon after, the atranger asked the Mississippian to go upon the deck of the steamer to obtain a better view of Covington, and the latter consented. While there a third person came up and presented a bill to the unknown, who offered $100, but the collector having no change, the debtor descended to the clerk and returned, saying the safe was locked up. The Mississippian was then requested to loan $25, the amount of the bill, which he did willingly and without the least suspicion. Five minutes after the two shaapers disappeared, and our young friend discovered he had been victimized. He says he has traveled all over the country, and he had concluded he could not be swindled by any one; but he confesses Cincinnati secoundrels are entirely too shrewd for him.

PIKE'S OPERA-ROUSE .- "Dot" was PIRE'A UPERA-ROUSE.—"Dol' was more completely and satisfactorily rendered last evenion than on Monday, and received with hearty applause. The play is well cast and finely put on the stage size Addid Proctor made a very agreemble impression as "Margery," and is destined to be a prime favorite with the habitues of the Opera house. ANNIVERSARY OF THE POLISH REVOLUTION Anniversary of the Polish Revolution.
The anniversary of the Polish Revolution, which began on the 29th of November, 1830,

were but fifteen persons present, two of whom,

Some days ago United States Marshal Barbour, telegraphed to this city stating that a fellow named L. E. Monetary and Commercial.

Nothing new occurred in the banking quarter yes terday, though some of the bankers spoke of a easier Money market, and an increased activity in business. Currency was, however, in greater demand than supply, as it has been for weeks past, and borrowers were numerous in and out of bank.

Eastern Exchange was firm at is bying and if premium selling rate.

No alteration in gold, New Orleans exchange, uncurrent money, or time-bills on the cast or south.

Flour continued in active demand yesterday, with large sales and light receipts. Whishy was dull, and declined 15c per gallon. Hogs were in brisk inquiry and prices higher. The sales reached 3,000 head at $6.0062500. Provisions were active, Mess Pork selling at $15.75 for present, and $16 for future delivery. All kinds of Grain were firm, and Cheese, Apples. Butter, Potatoes and Cloverseed were steady.

The inveign trade of the port of New York, the past week, shows a fair, and for the state of the season, rather large import entry of Foreign Goods, chiefly in General Merchandise, the total, including the Dry Goods table in our last paper, being $3,31,237 against $1,435,635 the same week last season. The exports of Domestic Produce and Miscellancous Goods amount, of $1,405,726, against $743,205 same week last year, while the Export of Specie is only $10,400, against $209,037 same week last year.

The Imports and Exports of various articles for the orrowers were numerous in and out of bank.

Monday's New York Times says of Saturday's

financial affairs:

"In reference to the discount line we look for no material change, although the continued marked case in the atoney market might authorize the caiculation of some further addition to the last return. The rates of discount and temporary loan have undergone little or no variation through the past week, and marcantile credit was undisturbed by failures or distrust. The activity on the Stock Exchange has very materially increased, and a spirited speculation for a general rise on the share list followed the Thanksgiving holiday of Thursday. But this has not yet materially increased the employment of money on temporary loan at the low rates of 566 per cent. The Foreign Exchanges have ruled steady, 19546110 on London; 5.1565.5.159 on Paris, at 60 days sight, while the demand for sight bills on either point is not such as to authorize present further shipments of gold, although the arrival of a fresh supply of California bars may lead to an export demand toward the close of this week."

money market:

The Money market has undergone no essential change for several days, and rates are as quoted vesterday. The supply on call is not quite so free with the Banking-houses, and but few loans are made noder 55665 per cent. The transactions in Paper are semewhat restricted in the open market, on account of the higher expectations of lenders, and more caution and discrimination have marked the negotiations. Boston Boot and Shor Market, November 26.—
There has been no change to notice in our market during the past week. A few orders have been received, and a few Southern and Western buyers are here. Maunfacturers will soon begin to make up for the spring trade, and it will be well for them to remember that the only way to get remunerative prices for the next season's goods, will be to have only a limited supply to older.
